

Welcome to Sandoz in Kundl!

We are delighted to welcome you to Sandoz, one of the world's biggest providers of patent-free drugs. We – over 26,500 employees in 160 countries – have dedicated ourselves to healthcare. We develop, produce and market high-quality, low-cost generic drugs. Sandoz is the generics division of the Swiss pharmaceutical company Novartis. The largest development and production facility (3600 employees) in the entire Sandoz Group is located right here in Kundl. The Kundl facility is also one of the biggest manufacturers of antibiotics and the last remaining fully integrated producer of penicillin in the western world: Annually, more than 190 million packets of medicinal products leave the Kundl facilities.

We pursue innovative approaches in order to improve our patients' quality of life. Our decades of expertise in the field of biotechnology are now a key factor in our success with an entirely new generation of drugs, known as biosimilars. We are a pioneer and market leader for these biotechnologically-derived follow-on drugs. Sandoz is the only company in Europe to hold licenses for three biosimilars. We produce two of these, namely Omnitrope® and Zarzio®, in Kundl and at our second Tyrolean production facility in Schafteu. Our clients have faith in the quality of Sandoz. We are acutely aware of this responsibility, and as such an emphasis on quality is one of our central corporate values.

You will find out more about this during your visit to Kundl! Our informative introductory film gives you an insight into our skills, products, the history of our company and our corporate philosophy. You can then look forward to an exciting audio-guided tour during which you will experience our drug production process at first hand.
